The Mineral Wealth of Idaho.

Criticism has compelled Governor Shoup per day. to issue a supplementary message, relating to mines and mining, this highly important to mines and mining, this highly important interest having been entirely ignored in the circumstance original message. In this the governor at $1.00. Such statements give plausibility and influence to even official utterances which nothing to even official utterances which nothing else can. The message recommends suitable legislation for the protection of our mining industries; and the 'pssaage of a memorial, praying Congress to pass a bill for the free coinage of silver, and the continuance of the duty of $1.50 per hundred pounds on lead imported into the country.

THE MONEY MARKET.

One Cause of the Prevailing Tightnes

A number of money experts, dele gates from several of our principal banking houses, have been holding con banking houses, have been holding con-ferences of late with a view to exchanging opinions on the condition of the money market and if possible of agreeing on some means to lighten the stringency. The re-suit of their labors is found in their unani-mous report to the effect that the scarcity of money is due to the large amounts sent away and invested in diamonds, watches and jewelry, by H. He failed to get the switch turned and get out of the way before the car was on him. He was rolled under the trucks and received some severe injuries, which rendered him unconscious for a short time. He was carried into Johnson & Prattys, when a physician was called, and the injured man was talten home.

YESTERDAY afternoon Mrs. Himman, residing at No. 40k hast Second Scath, laid a large bundle of laundry on the back doorstep for the laundry wagon and went upstairs. Soon after two boys came along driving a vegetable wagon, and stopping at the house went up to the door and rang the bell. No one answering them at once they picked up the bundle and taking it to the wagon, started the horses up Second South at full gallop. Mrs. Himman took a street car and came up town after them, but they were nowhere to be seen. J. H. is now out rustling among his friends for a holiday suit.

A DEAT and dumb boy named Joseph Keeley was run over by a street ear on Second South street a short distance east of Main shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday evening and severely injured. It appears that he with two other boys, were standing on the track when the car came from the east. The motorman struck his gong and two of the boys jumped from the track, but the other, being deaf, did not bear it. Just before the car struck him, he tried to get off but failed, and he was dragged under the front of the motor and relied along. When the calamity occurred the motorman reversed his car and slopped within six feet, otherwise the boy would have been a mass of felly. A crowd-room gathered and taking hold of the sine of the car, which had been deralled, lifted it up so that the boy could be taken out. He was taken to his home near by and the company's physician called, who found had sealp braines, an car nearly severed and a leg broken above the knee, also internal highries, but to what extent is not yet disterminable. The lad was seven years od and a son of A. C. Keeley, who less than two months ago came to this city from Dakots and opened a candy factory on Second South last Week.

William A. Pratt, a well-known mining man, was found dead in his bed at the Raymona house at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. A short time ago Mr. Pratt contracted a very severe cold, which probably turned into pneumonia. His friends called on him and did what they could for him, and on Sunday J. P. Kente made arrangements to have him taken to the hospital, he visited the sick man in the evening and left some medicine, which the propeleter of the house administered. He last saw Pratt alive at about 1 n. m., when to was resting easily. Mr. Pratt was an old Comstocker, and was at one time poesessed of considerable means. He had been operating in Utah for some years. He was a fine inheralogist and was successful in his operations for a long time. Some years use he met with an accident in a mine through, which he lost a leg, and after that he became careless and dissipated. At the time of his death he had an interest in the Buillon mine, near Stockton, and other properties, which have not been developed. Coroner flarries called in a jury last evening and an inquest was held at the undertaking establishment of Evans & Rose. The facts above stated were brought out, and the jury rendered a verdet to the effect that death resulted from natural causes.
